

Francesca Ditifei
Università degli Studi di Firenze

The path of care in international adoption

Abstract

From the birth of the desire to the first encounter, from the most special journey to the new arrival, we will pass through the essential crucial points of international adoption in order to depict one of the most beautiful and difficult stories of care and love.