

What method for a theology at the service of evangelisation?

Conference in honour of Prof. Lucas Francisco Mateo-Seco

Ten years ago, Prof. Lucas Francisco Mateo-Seco completed his earthly journey. His academic and spiritual legacy proved especially fruitful. In particular, the passing of the years has highlighted the depth of his approach to theological method, capable of combining scientific rigour and service to the Church's evangelising task, fidelity to tradition and openness to contemporary demands, study of texts, especially the Church Fathers, and dogmatic synthesis. To remember him, the academic community of his disciples is organising a one-day conference at the Pontifical University of the Holy Cross in Rome on 20 September 2024, aimed at deepening those methodological elements that characterised the teaching and research of Prof. Lucas Francisco Mateo-Seco.
